WOMEN SCARE LEGISLATORS WITH FLOOD OF REFORM BILLS

Minimum Wage and Amended Bastardy Laws Among Bills Asked by Women—Would Solve Many Sex
Problems by Legislation—Committee Prepares for Descent on Springfield

When the politically-bound members of the Illinois state legislature get through squabbling over who is going to get control of the house and what party or faction is going to draw all the important committee jobs in the senate they will not be finished with their troubles.

Shortly after the legislature is organized and ready a committee of women will slip to Springfield and begin to agitate for the most humane laws ever presented to a lawmaking body. And as the women have the power of the ballot the politicians will be forced to listen.

Some of the laws may appear radical. Some of them may hit cohorts of the legislators pretty hard. But the women want them and they are determined to get them.

Among the things the women will fight for are:

There shall be a minimum wage for all women and minors, to be established by a wage board under a minimum wage commission.

Better provision for the support of
